The Comet.

This stranger, which appeared in our Heavens a few nights ago, is an object of universal interest. Coming altogether unheralded, the inquiry is, is it an entirely new visitor, or a wanderer whose return had been predicted and forgotten amidst matters of more immediate and pressing importance. It is the most beautiful comet we have ever seen, the nucleus being longer and more brilliant than any of its predecessors of our day. That of 1843 had as long a train, but the nucleus was not well defined-that of 1858 was smaller. and though beautiful, far below the present visitor in magnificence, What Comet is it? is the general inquiry. We are sure we cannot answer. But we may ask is it not the comet of 1556 which caused the abdication of the Emperor Charles V? and which it was calculated would reappear in 1856, but failed. An eminent French astronomer, Bosiner, furnished the following interesting details relative to it :

"This comet, said he, is one of the grandest of which historians make mention. Its period of revolution is about three hundred years. It was seen in the years 104, 392, 683, 975, 1264, and the last time in 1556. Astronomers reed in predicting its return in 1848; but iled to appear, and continues to shine still

Mayements of the Federal Troops in Missouri.

A gentleman who arrived in this city last evening, having traveled from Macon, near the north line of Missouri, by land, gives us important intelligence as to the movements of the tederal forces in that State. He states that the northern portion of th tate, after the affair at Boonville, was in rested with troops from St. Louis, Illinois Iowa, and Kansas, who commenc d a march candidate to represent the 4th Congressional District which followed a line toward the south-east, nding at Pocahontas in Arkansas. The line of their march can be followefl on the map; commencing at Macon City, south to Jefferson City; then to Tuscumbia. Springfield, Lebanon, Raleigh and Waynesville; and when our informant left Tuscumbia, (two hours before the troops arrived at that point,) he learned of their intention to make the passage to Po cahontas and there make a conjunction with BARROW a candidate to represent the county of Dathe troops, which are sent out from Bird' Point, over the line of the Cairo and Fulton railroad.

The evident intention is to invest eastern dissouri and keep open a military route from the North for federal troops, with a base line on the south; they then receive an important advantage which will have an unfortunate effect on the patriots in Missouri, while at the same time it strengthens the abolition element which prevails in the eastern portion. At every point on the line marked out they have stationed detachments of from four to six hundred men, and they arrest every prominent man whose sentiments are suspected of being favorable to the South, requiring them to take the oath of allegiance to the United States, or sending them to St. Louis for trial and annovance. Their march is signalized by various atrocities and outrages on the inhabitants. Marauding parties and detachments of their soldiery seize on property and carry it off without compensation, insulting the citizens who demand immunity and protection. On the march from Raleigh to Waynesville

German regiment was terribly distrassed by a guerrilla warfare, kept up by some one or two hundred Missourians, who killed and wounded over three hundred of the enemy The Federals did not put out any flanking parties, and paid no attention to their dead and wounded, leaving them on the road un cared for This movement towards Arkan sas and the Mississippi river, calls for attention on the part of our military authorities A conjunction of forces from Tennessee and Arkansas, effected with the Missourians would effectually break up the Federal occupation mentioned, and now that our troops are so anxious to see real service, we think the opportunity should not be deferred. We owe much to these patriotic people who have taken the brunt of the battle from Tennessee. and hope a quick and judicious effort will be made for their assistance. The entire route was travelled by our informant on horseback, and he represents the substantial cltizens and property holders as having the utmost sympathy with the South, and that they look to us for support in this their hour of distress. Our informant of the above facts is reliable, and we make no hesitation in vouching for the truth of his statements .- Mem. Appea
